March Madness!!!

By Ross Day, Executive Director and General Counsel

It is the end of March, which means only one thing in my household – March Madness. The annual college basketball tournament where 64 teams battle it out to determine who the national champion is going to be.

“March Madness” has a different meaning here at Common Sense For Oregon. For us, “March Madness” signals the beginning of our campaign to identify new supporters, raise money for our organization, and strengthen our online presence through Facebook and Twitter.

The point of my column this week is not to ask you for money (although I wouldn’t say “no” to it), but instead to ask each of you to log on to your Facebook account and sign up to be a fan of Common Sense For Oregon.

Being a fan of Common Sense For Oregon will enable you to get updates about what Common Sense is up to, where Common Sense is taking its show, and how to get involved in the ballot measures sponsored by Common Sense.

Most importantly, you will be able to get direct access to ballot measures and E-Petitions before the petitions are sent out to the rest of the public. You will get first crack at reviewing and signing these important petitions that will restore common sense and accountability to Oregon's government.

So, take the time to go to Facebook and become a fan. After all, who doesn't support Common Sense? Especially for Oregon.....
